State Adaptation Strategy Overview

Nuin-Tara Key, Deputy Director for Climate Resilience, CA Governor's Office of Planning and Research

World Café Discussion on State Adaptation Strategy Priorities

Juliette Finzi Hart, Program Manager for Integrated Climate Adaptation and Resiliency Program, CA Governor's Office of Planning and Research

Breakout Room Discussion Questions:

1. What actions are most needed in the region to address each priority?
2. As we work to advance each priority, how do we work to ensure equitable outcomes?
3. What knowledge gaps or information needs do you have to accelerate your work in each priority?

Enabling Regional Adaptation Action

Nuin-Tara Key, Deputy Director for Climate Resilience, CA Governor's Office of Planning and Research

Egon Terplan, Senior Advisor for Economic Development & Transportation, CA Strategic Growth Council

Group Discussion Questions:

1. How have issues of climate adaptation been successfully integrated into existing regional planning processes? Which existing institutions or processes/plans at the regional level are best poised to take on climate adaptation?
2. What are examples of regions that have self-identified to tackle regional issues and what new institutions or processes did they establish to tackle that issue? What authorities did those institutions gather and how effective were they in solving the regional issue? How did these regional groups interact with existing regional plans and processes?
3. What can the state do to help inspire regional action around climate adaptation? What are the pros and cons of the state establishing set boundaries for regions and/or establishing specific new regional institutions and how effective have such regional agencies been in your region?
4. What authorities are needed for a regional agency to tackle climate adaptation? What are examples in your region where this has been successful?
